HELLFIRE GAUNTLET

Armor (gauntlet) legendary (requires attunement by a character with a Constitution score of at least 18)
Crafted from metal formed in a world far from this one. Protective spikes protrude outwards behind the wearer's knuckles and extend upwards in an arc. This gauntlet forms most of the gauntlet shape. An ever burning fire stems from this sculpture and rises up to the elbow of whoever wears the gauntlet.

If one who meets the requirements of the gauntlet bears it, they gain a myriad of new abilities. Their strength score increases by 2. All melee weapon attacks they make deal an additional 2d6 fire damage. Any target, of size or not, who is within 10 feet of the user must make a Strength saving throw or take 2d6 force damage, 2d6 fire damage, and be knocked prone, or half as much damage on a save and not knocked prone. The DC for this effect is equal to $8 + \text{proficiency bonus} + \text{user's strength modifier}$. The user's unarmed strikes deal 1d8 damage and they can cast the fireball spell once per long rest.

The user gains access to the firebolt casting (use creature's level to determine damage). Wisdom is used for calculating the hit bonus for firebolts.

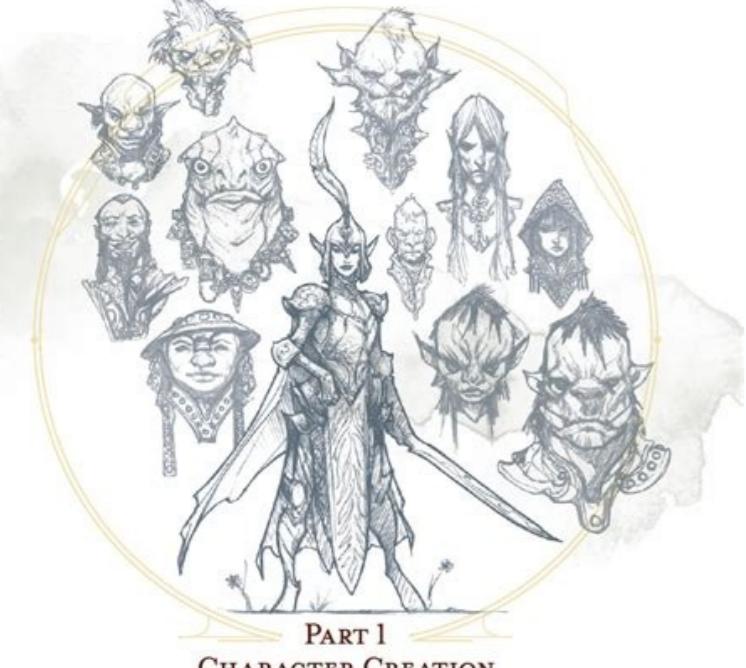

By spending an action, the following effect activates:

- The user smashes their weapon into the ground creating a devastating shock wave of force and fire. All creatures within 20 feet of the user must make a Dexterity saving throw or take 4d6 force damage, 4d6 fire damage, and be knocked prone, or half as much damage on a save and not knocked prone. The DC for this effect is equal to $8 + \text{proficiency bonus} + \text{user's strength modifier}$. This ability can be used a number of times equal to the user's strength modifier per long rest.

AWAKENED

When a character awakens the Hellfire Gauntlet, apply the following changes to the item's traits:

- The amount of fire damage dealt increases to 3d4.
- The knock back effect applies to huge and smaller creatures.
- The user gains access to the fireball spell. The spell is cast at its level. Wisdom is used for calculating their hit bonus. This spell can be used a number of times per long rest equal to the character's wisdom modifier.
- By spending an action, one of the following effects activate. Multiple effects can be active at once:
 - The user smashes their weapon into the ground creating a devastating shock wave of force and fire. All creatures within 20 feet of the user must make a Dexterity saving throw or take 4d6 force damage, 4d6 fire damage, and be knocked prone, or half as much damage on a save and not knocked prone. The DC for this effect is equal to $8 + \text{proficiency bonus} + \text{user's strength modifier}$. This ability can be used a number of times equal to the user's strength modifier per long rest.

PART 1
CHARACTER CREATION

GUNSLINGER

Gunslingers are a bold and impetuous lot. While many treat the secrets of black powder with the same care and reverence that a monk对待s his secret scroll or a wizard his spellbook, most gunslingers know that firearms are a secret that cannot remain concealed. They are often the most dangerous simple, often impulsive, and even dangerous devils in a technology on the move, and one that will become even more powerful when it is fully fused with magic.

FIREARM PROFICIENCY

Gunslingers gain proficiency with Firearms, thus able to add their proficiency bonus to Firearms attacks.

GRIT

At the end of each Short Rest, a Gunslinger gains a number of Grit points equal to their Wisdom Modifier (minimum of 1). These points are used to keep the Gunslinger from never exceeding their Wisdom modifier. The Gunslinger can regain Grit points in the following ways:

Critical Hit - If the Gunslinger scores a Critical Hit with a Firearm attack while in the heat of combat, they regain 1 Grit point.

Killing Strike - If the Gunslinger reduces a creature to 0 or fewer hit points with a Firearm attack, they regain 1 Grit point. If the death was due to a Critical Hit, they only get the 1 Grit, not two.

DEEDS

Gunslingers use Grit points to perform Deeds. Some Deeds are single target attacks, while others are bonuses that can last for a period of time. Some Deeds last as long as the Gunslinger has 1 Grit point.

Gunslingers can choose which Deed the Gunslinger requires level for, and can combine multiple Deeds into a single attack.

Gunslinger's Trick Shot Starting at 3rd level, the Gunslinger gains proficiency with Tinker's Tools, able to use them to craft ammunition, repair damaged firearms, or even draft and create new firearms.

Deadly Aim Starting at 3rd level, the Gunslinger can spend a Grit point to take a Ranged Attack on their next attack. The target must choose to make a Deadeye attack and spends Grit before making the attack.

Quick Draw Starting at 7th level, the Gunslinger gains +2 Initiative and can draw Firearms as a free Action.

Violent Shot Starting at 7th Level, the Gunslinger can spend 1 or more Grit points to make a Violent Attack. For each Grit point spent, that Attack gains +1 to its weapon's Damage modifier. If the attack hits, it deals an additional amount of damage equal to the spent Grit points. If the attack misses, Grit points are still expended. (ex. 3 Grit points = +3 to misses. +4 for Violent Damage Deed) Weapons with the "Explosive" property add only 1 Grit point spent.

(or 2 Grit points added to 1/2 per Crit)

Trick Shot Starting at 10th Level, the Gunslinger can spend a Grit point to target a specific location on a foe's body with a Firearm attack. The target must choose which point is still lost. If the Gunslinger has multiple attacks in their Attack action, they can make multiple Targeted shots for 1 Grit point each.
